Foreword

Maropeng's resource pack is a set of fascinating learning materials.

Teachers benefit immensely from being able to draw on a range of clearly written and locally designed learning materials. Here we have information that leads our learners to a better understanding of a rich educational site. These learning materials cover a variety of learning areas and address the core areas of the curriculum.

Maropeng's education pack has been piloted on both educators and learners and has found widespread acceptance as a unique resource for understanding the new curriculum.

I recommend the pack to both teachers and pupils.
